Déjà Vu

Reinventing their own versions, including ukulele, guitar & vocals

El dúo acústico "Déjà Vu", esta formado por la voz y el ukulele de Ophélie, una parisina autodidacta, de formación artística, y por la guitarra y voz del madrileño, Enrique, guitarrista apasionado desde hace más de 20 años que ha tocado en diversas bandas de la escena madrileña. El resultado de estas dos personalidades y culturas distintas son versiones acústicas "Mood Music" de varios estilos, Swing, Pop, Raegge, Country, Bossa-Nova, etc, y diferentes épocas, desde los 50' hasta la música más actual. Un repertorio muy amplio, para agradar todos los gustos, pero siempre con el toque «Déjà Vu», reinventando sus proprias versiones, entre ukulélé, guitarra, voces y buenas vibraciones en general.
Hablar de Déjà Vu no es fácil con solo palabras, ¡mejor escucheles!

The acoustic duo 'Déjà Vu' comprises ukulele player and singer Ophélie, a self-taught Parisian artist, and Enrique, a Madrid-born guitarist and singer who has plied his trade in a number of bands on the Madrid scene for over 20 years. The resulting combination of personalities and cultures is an "Mood Music" duet who cover a range of styles that includes Swing, Pop, Reggae, Country, Bossa-Nova, among others, and encompasses music from the 1950s to the present day – a wide-ranging repertoire that will delight all audiences with their characteristic combination of ukulele, guitar, vocals and good vibrations.
The duo began in Tenerife with the idea of sharing their talents in the most exquisite venues, creating pleasurable musical ambiences that are ideal for all lovers of good music and accompanying relaxing moments, holiday atmospheres and private parties with their original sound.
